LICENSE GUIN SIX TOWNS

Sharp Fights in All Sections of the State -- Winsted Goes Back to License by a Decided Majority and Middletown Stays Wet.

OLD SAYBROOK DRY BY JUST THREE VOTES

Branford License as Well as Stony Creek--Close Vote in Bristol, Which Stays License--Six Flop to No-License, 12 to License.

The question of license or no license was vigorously fought in many Connecticut towns yesterday. In the large towns and the cities where the question was voted upon it was decided in favor of license by decisive pluralities. Winsted shifted back to the license column.

Middletown, where another campaign was waged by the no-license men with considerable vigor, remained in the license column, as did Manchester, where Chairman Hobenthal of the Prohibition State committee lives, and Berlin, the home of H. H. Spooner, his colleague in temperance work. Perhaps the sharpest fight was out in Winsted, which is included in the town of Winchester.

The net result is a gain of six towns for license, the no-license men gaining six towns and losing twelve. The towns which have changed from no-license to license are:

Bethany, Branford, East Haven, Montville, Stonington, Brookfield, New Fairfield, Chester, New Hartford, Winchester, Bolton, Stafford.

Those changing from license to no-license are:

Gulford, Old Saybrook, Litchfield, Cornwall, Plymouth, Killingly.

NEW DEAL IN STRATFORD; TAXES TO BE EQUALIZED

Town Meeting Votes to Reassess All Existing Realty Values.

A large town meeting was held in Red Men's hall, Stratford, yesterday. Judge Peck presiding and Town Clerk Stage acting as clerk. A large amount of business was transacted. There was considerable criticism indulged in by various speakers about the annual report, which was before the house for adoption. The delay of the report in not coming out, as the town ordered, was laid to the printer. Explanations were asked for regarding the interest on uncollected taxes, and the justices court was subjected to a headlight investigation. Fred S. Beardsley wished to know what became of the interest on taxes.

The care and improvement of the highways, as well as the care of the poor, was left to the Selectmen. A resolution was offered by Dr. Lewis to the effect that the School Board shall not require children over or at 14 years of age to continue to go to school if they wish to leave the town. This resolution was withdrawn. The everlasting resolution to appropriate $2,000 additional to enable the School Board to add four rooms to the center school was discussed pro and con for a long while and opened up the whole school question. Mr. Conine, Stiles Judson, Mr. Beardsley, Dr. Lewis, and others took a hand in the argument, and after Hollister Heights had been raked over, and the Sedgwick school held up to view, and the poor children on Huntington road sympathized with the school board, the resolution was passed, and the School Board was authorized to let the School Board have the $2,000 for which it has so long waited. A resolution was adopted to the effect that the interest on uncollected taxes be added to the amount of taxes in arrears, as the amount to be collected. It was voted that 15 per cent of the amount of taxes for roads be set apart for the construction of sidewalks. It was moved to accept Commissioner MacDonald's offer of $20,000 for roads, and the town to use such portion of it as may be needed.

At this point in the meeting Mr. Conine offered a resolution to the effect that the town meeting give a vote of thanks to Town Clerk Stage for his long and efficient service. This was adopted by a rising unanimous vote. Mr. Stage returned thanks, and said he had tried to deal honestly with every one regardless of politics. By a subsequent resolution it was agreed to have the resolution engrossed and presented to Mr. Stage.

E. H. DILLON & CO.

The town, Selectman Stacy gave some figures relating to the cost of doing for Barnum avenue and Main street, and as they seemed to be very high the whole matter was laid on the table. It was ordered that the next town report be fashioned on the same lines as the report of the selectmen. The selectmen were empowered to fix the southern boundary of land belonging to Mr. Nearing, situated at Short Beach. The name of Broadbridge road was changed to Bruce avenue. It was voted to place a horse trough on Barnum avenue at an expense of not more than $175. A resolution to limit the debt of the town to $100,000 was voted down. A gentleman thought if the town must not go into debt beyond that sum the limit might prevent the building of a grand school house on Hollister Heights. A good deal was said about the equalization of the values of property, and the new Board of Assessors was instructed to value all property in town for purposes of taxation at its full market value. Mr. Judson thought that if this is done, there will be plenty of money in the town treasury. Now the town has to borrow. A committee of three is to be appointed by the chair to confer with the assessors, and they are to receive $3 per diem for their labors. Mr. Judson said there is great inequality in the taxation of property. The small men have to pay more than their portion of the taxes; the large taxpayer does not. Allusion was made to the outrageous price paid by the Curtis Thompson estate for one acre of land on which to build the Hollister Heights school. Mr. Judson would put in his property at the full value. Mr. Conine was glad the honorable Senator had woke up. He had been fighting for years for the very thing which Mr. Judson was taking to the town. The last matter touched upon was the question of carrying out the State law and requiring the roads to be closed at 10 o'clock. One cadaverous gentleman thought it would be too bad to deprive men of a "little inspiration" at precisely 10 o'clock if they happened to be taking a dinner at a shore house. Mr. Conine and Mr. Judson had kind words to say for the saloon, and although it was opposed by Mr. Packard, Mr. Dorman, and others, it was finally agreed that they may close at 11 o'clock p. m. Adjourned.

The reports of the various branches of the government were adopted. The report of the special committee on town sewerage was accepted, while the report of the Selectmen on the Ash Creek sewer was recommended that the town wait until the outcome of a suit instituted in Bridgeport, in reference to injunction proceedings to prevent the sewer from emptying into Ash Creek, has been disposed of. If the court grants a permanent injunction there will be no need of the $20,000 for state roads. It was agreed that the sum of $7,000 be appropriated for dirt roads. Voted to appropriate $30,000 for state roads in accordance with the terms of the resolution furnished by Mr. MacDonald, the State Highway Commissioner. An amendment was offered that as much money as may be needed of this sum be appropriated to be expended under the State highway law on the Black Rock turnpike, and to oil and repair all state roads in the town. The sum of $7,000 was appropriated for use on the macadam roads. The sum of $2,500 was set apart for the poor. Last year the amount was $3,000. It was agreed to defer the laying of a tax until the action of the Board of Relief is known. The Selectmen were empowered to borrow $30,000. The matter of widening the main road at Reinecke's corner was laid on the table. The Selectmen were authorized

TALK NO. 435 AT A DISTANCE

In the majority of cases glasses which are especially adapted for reading and sewing cannot be used for seeing at long distance. This is particularly true if the wearer is over 45 years of age. To some persons it is very annoying to be compelled to move the glasses every time it is necessary to "look across" the room. Within the last few weeks we have heard this spoken of a great deal. The trouble can be easily obviated by wearing bifocal lenses. In these the upper parts are fitted for distance and the lower parts for reading. When you look down upon your sewing or book you look through the lower part. When you raise your eyes to look at a distance you see just as clearly. They are the nearest approach to the natural eye that it is possible to devise. We make lenses in every shape and strength.
